

POSITIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Barre.

Because it's the evidence of a Barre citizen.

Testimony easily investigated.

The strongest endorsement of merit.

The best proof. Read it—

C. N. Benedict, Eastern avenue, Barre, Vt., says: "The great merit of Doan's Kidney Pills has been so amply proven to me that I can give them my strongest endorsement. Four or five years ago, I was injured, and from that time on was troubled a great deal by pains across my loins and kidneys. Stopping or lifting caused me distress, and I was annoyed a great deal by a retention of the kidney secretions. A friend, knowing how I was troubled, advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and I did so, procuring my supply at Drown's drug store. I received the most gratifying results. My back and kidneys were strengthened and my health improved wonderfully. Since that time, whenever I have felt out of sorts, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills, and they have never failed to give me the desired relief."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Posters-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Miss Grace Wells is spending her vacation with relatives in Melrose, Mass.

E. Fay Hopkins of Rehoboth has just visited his son, Clyde B. Hopkins, a son-in-law of Jerry M. Hutchinson.

Mrs. George C. Harle thinks she is gaining in strength, now that she is able to be out of doors more.

E. Thomas died at Mrs. Charles Guild's home on Thursday, and his body was later taken to Northfield for burial.

It is reported that a rich woman in Boston has bargained for both our Monument house and the Gulf Springs house.

Michael J. Elliott left two brothers, John of New Mexico and Daniel of Texas. Both are road masters for railroad companies.

Up to Thursday of this week, the Bailey brothers, Ben and Luther, had made 700 pounds of maple sugar and syrup this season.

We would call attention again to the Easter sacred concert to be given at the union service in the M. E. church next Sunday evening.

The Rebekahs have just bought of the Village Improvement society the upright piano that has been in our town hall for a year or two past.

Superintendent of Schools H. D. Casey has been in Williamstown in late days, his mother recently died. His wife is in quite poor health at present.

House-builder Jerry M. Hutchinson tells us that in the last ten years he has not before had so good an outlook for work in his line for a season as at the present time.

Mrs. Patsy Elliott will return very long from New Mexico, where she has been for some two years in the family of her late husband's brother, John Elliott, caring for his motherless children.

George W. Cox of East Barre, who had been staying here for a little time for treatment of cancer on his face and neck, has returned to his home, and, we think, is a very happy man for the benefit he received.

We are told that Horace M. Farnham of East Montpelier will furnish six horses for work on our highways this coming season, and that a teamster's family will live in a part of the Gidney house, now occupied by Angus MacLeod's family.

Mrs. M. J. Elliott desires to express thanks to friends for their kindness and floral tributes, and especially to the neighbors around the home farm, who showed so much kindness, and to Dr. Burley, who so faithfully attended her husband to the end.

Blacksmith Angus MacLeod, who went to the Victoria hospital, Montreal, last Thursday for the removal of a cancer of the eye, found that six weeks' treatment would be required before the eye would be in proper condition to be operated upon. Very naturally, it was a great disappointment to him.

At the meeting of our Fraternity Rebekah lodge last Thursday evening, there were present Mrs. Susie Keach of White River Junction, president of the state Rebekah assembly, and Mrs. Louise Boyce of Barre, secretary of the state Rebekah assembly. Three new members were added to our lodge at the time.

In one of the well-known large cities of the West, where Lewis M. Seaver of the National Humane alliance, placed an English drinking fountain, a record was kept for fourteen hours of a certain day of the men and things that quench their thirst at this fountain, which was as follows: Men, women and children, 40; horses and mules, 1,201; dogs and birds, 284; 1 cow and 1 cat, making a total of 1,283. At another and smaller western town, 90 horses were once seen to drink from another of these fountains in 60 minutes.

Michael J. Elliott, who died here Tuesday afternoon of this week, was a son of the late Thomas Elliott of Northfield, and was born March 4, 1805. When he was sixteen years of age, he went to Barre to learn the granite cutting trade with Arzo D. Morse. He liked Mr. Morse as an employer, one of whose directions to him at times was "Don't hurry, but do your work well." We judge that Mr. Elliott was faithful, always, in doing his work well. A pioneer firm in the granite manufacturing business in our village was that of the Elliott Brothers. Four of these brothers have cut stone here, Michael J. Patsy, Christopher and Leonard, the three first having all died of consumption. The firm of Elliott Brothers, while in business here, had an enviable name, indeed, for honorable, square dealing and for its good work. Some 18 years ago, Michael Elliott married Miss Nellie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. House, and the marriage seems to have proved one of the very happiest. Faithful love and devotion on the part of each characterized it to Mr. Elliott's dying breath. Some five years ago Mr. Elliott bought the old Horace E. White farm, and it was hoped that life upon it might save the ravages of tuberculosis, but it was not to be. A year and more ago, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott went to Colorado and New Mexico and remained some months and through a winter, but a cure was not effected. Mr. Elliott met bravely all the conditions of his health from time to time and to the very end. He was a bright, intelligent, manly man, and was a treat to us all for a shot with him and see his insight into the things he had mastered. Born into the Catholic faith and bred therein, his funeral was held in the Catholic church at Graniteville on Thursday forenoon, where a warm tribute was paid him by the officiating minister. His burial was in our village cemetery. Thursday, the day of his burial, was a beautiful, summer-like day. We had occasion to go to the cemetery in the afternoon and to the fresh graves of both Mr. Elliott and our former townsman, J. Hyland Seaver. On both these graves lay beautiful flowers, the tokens of the grief as well as of the love of the living. In the little time these flowers had been there, countless honeybees had discerned their whereabouts and were busy in extracting their sweetness. Was there a lesson for us all there? May it be that in all these crushing sorrows of life the Father has hidden away the richest sweetness for us, if only we will seek for it, as the bees were seeking for it in those beautiful flowers that afternoon?

A flow in the back—An overcoat is a necessary nuisance and the tendency to take it off on warmish days in late autumn and winter is as strong as it is in spring. A teacher's wife told us in the back and the next morning you have lumbago. Rub well and often with Perry Davis' Painkiller and you will be astonished to find how quickly all soreness is banished.

Under the auspices of the educational committee of the Hyattsville club, a delightful and helpful afternoon was spent yesterday at the Congregational chapel. After the guests had assembled, Mrs. D. C. Jones sang, "I Once Had a Sweet Little Doll," by Nedra. Mrs. E. T. Houston then, in a very gracious manner, introduced Mrs. John Bone of Boltonville, who spoke on "Kindergarten Work."

Mrs. Bone, who will be better known here as Lucia Hadley, taught in Montpelier for some time. She was very practical in her talk and made it even more so by working with a class of young children. All parts of the work were explained and each mother must certainly have felt that she had some methods which could easily be used in the home.

White in town, Mrs. Bone was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Bone.

SAVE A SOLDIER'S LIFE.

Facing death from shot and shell in the Civil war was more agreeable to J. A. Stone of Kemp, Vt., than facing it from what doctors said was consumption.

"I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough, that stuck to me in spite of all remedies for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. I now weigh 178 pounds." For coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, hemorrhage, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough and lung trouble, it is supreme. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by the Red Cross Pharmacy.
